

Cedarville University FACULTY POSITION POSTINGS

Youth Ministries

CEDARVILLE UNIVERSITY (OH) is seeking applicants for a full-time, tenure-track position teaching Youth Ministries to begin in August 2011. The applicant should have an outstanding record of service in youth ministry, some teaching experience and relevant graduate education. Candidates must have a passion for teaching undergraduates and an ability to guide students in ministry preparation along with a theological engagement with cultural and personal life issues. While the position focuses on youth ministry, some teaching in the Bible Minor will be required (<http://www.cedarville.edu/academics/bible/bibleminor.htm>). Adherence to the doctrinal statement and community covenant is required as well as evidence of exemplary Christian character. Priority consideration will be given to those who can expand our vision of the cultural and global implications of the gospel. Candidates should submit a letter of intent and CV via email to Pam Bromer (BROMERP@cedarville.edu), assistant to the dean of the School of Biblical and Theological Studies, and apply online: <http://www.cedarville.edu/cf/faculty/application/>. Applications will be accepted up to 15 September, 2010.

Theological Studies

CEDARVILLE UNIVERSITY (OH) is seeking applicants for general theological studies. The position is a full-time, tenure-track position to begin in August 2011. The applicant should have a PhD completed at the time of employment, as well as evidence research potential and currency in his or her field of interest. Candidates must have a passion and demonstrated excellence for teaching undergraduates in both large and small class settings in the Bible minor (<http://www.cedarville.edu/academics/bible/bibleminor.htm>). The position demands an ability to guide students in the process of theological engagement with cultural and personal life issues. Adherence to the doctrinal statement and community covenant is required as well as evidence of exemplary Christian character. Priority consideration will be given to those who can expand our vision of the cultural and global implications of the gospel. Candidates should submit a letter of intent and CV via email to Pam Bromer (BROMERP@cedarville.edu), assistant to the dean of the School of Biblical and Theological Studies, and apply online: <http://www.cedarville.edu/cf/faculty/application/>. Applications will be accepted up to 15 September, 2010.